The main screen area is used to display the goals in a way that reflects the impact of a user's decisions. The more transparent the goal, the further away in time. Selecting the goal will display the precise waiting time along the top part of the screen. The specific picture used to depict a goal corresponds to an option of a certain quality level. For example, cars range from a HONDA CIVIC® to a BMW®, Vacations from camping to Paris, etc. These selections will change depending on the way the user values different goals.
